Directors College

Credit union directors are expected to truly understand the nature of their credit union's business plan, compliance program, and portfolio risks. Pioneered in 2008, NASCUS' Directors Colleges brings together credit union directors along with senior credit union staff to hear first-hand from state regulators regarding their expectations of the directors and from leading professionals on the hot button issues confronting directors such as BSA/AML requirements, cyber security, succession planning, managing interest rate risk, national issues, CECL accounting changes, and much more.

Industry Day/Executive Forums

An up-close look at the state regulatory agenda and practices is offered to credit union executive staff at these exclusive gatherings with state credit union regulatory officials. Hosted by NASCUS in conjunction with local state credit union regulators, these intense, one-day programs bring credit union regulators and practitioners face-to-face to share experiences and ideas about developing a stronger state credit union system in their states. The Industry Day/Executive Forums also provide an opportunity for credit union executive staff to enhance their understanding of current challenges facing the credit union system with the added advantage of hearing their state regulator's views on those challenges.

NASCUS/CUNA Cybersecurity Symposium

Stand strong against cyber threats: As the nature of cyberattacks continues to evolve over time, your credit union may have vulnerabilities that won't be noticed until it's too late. CUNA and the National Association of State Credit Union Supervisors (NASCUS) are partnering for the 5th consecutive year to examine these new threats and the best practices for neutralizing them effectively and keeping your data safe.

Topics include:

- * Understand the evolving expectations for risk assessments
- * Latest trends in resilience, response, and continuity
- * New credit union cybersecurity examination tools
- * The value of cyber intelligence
- * OSINT and DNS
- * Effective third-party management
